Gentlemen:

Enclosed is the Ocean Current Measuring Program status report for August, September, and October 1977. In accordance with the OCMF Agreement, the measuring stations were shut down in November. Late in August and early in September, the stations were affected by Hurricanes Anita and Babe. As discussed in the status report, the data recovery in the storms was reasonably good, but the conditions at the measurement sites were not too severe. A combined storm report for Anita and Babe is being prepared.

If you have any questions about the program, please call Dr. George Z. Forristall at (713) 663-2404.

Very truly yours,
